

Strategy Statement for applications to become a York Minster Volunteer

Applications are always welcome from anyone wishing to become a York Minster volunteer. York Minster adheres to the principle that the relationship between an organisation and a volunteer should always be positive and mutually beneficial to both parties. All applications will be considered on an individual basis, with due regard to Church of England safeguarding procedures.