York Minster: safeguarding children and adults who may be at risk of abuse and/or neglect

Introduction

This document sets out York Minster’s safeguarding policy and guidance related to safeguarding children, young people and adults who may be vulnerable. It has been informed by, and is compliant with, Church of England policy and practice guidance (see below for links).

"Under section 5 of the Safeguarding and Clergy Discipline Measure 2016, all authorised clergy, bishops, archdeacons, licensed readers and lay workers, churchwardens and PCCs must have 'due regard' to safeguarding guidance issued by the House of Bishops (this will include both policy and practice guidance). A duty to have 'due regard' to guidance means that the person under the duty is not free to disregard it but is required to follow it unless there are cogent reasons for not doing so. ('Cogent' for this purpose means clear, logical and convincing.) Failure by clergy to comply with the duty imposed by the 2016 Measure may result in disciplinary action".

Church of England policy and guidance

Safeguarding Policy Statement

The Church of England, its Archbishops, Bishops, clergy and leaders are committed to safeguarding as an integral part of the life and ministry of the Church.

Safeguarding means the action the Church takes to promote a safer culture. This means we will promote the welfare of children, young people and adults, work to prevent abuse from occurring, seek to protect those that are at risk of being abused and respond well to those that have been abused. We will take care to identify where a person may present a risk to others, and offer support to them whilst taking steps to mitigate such risks.

The Church of England affirms the ‘Whole Church’ approach to safeguarding. This approach encompasses a commitment to consistent policy and practice across all Church bodies, Church Officers and that everyone associated with the Church, who comes into contact with children, young people and adults, has a role to play.

The Church will take appropriate steps to maintain a safer environment for all and to practice fully and positively Christ’s Ministry towards children, young people and adults; to respond sensitively and compassionately to their needs in order to help keep them safe from harm.

York Minster guidance: undertaking activities involving children, young people, families and /or adults who may be vulnerable

Introduction

Children, young people and their families play an important role in the life of York Minster. Families form part of the congregation, joining other members in worship; visitors include family groups and school parties; children have a central role in either serving or singing at services; and, York Minster regularly runs activities involving children and/or young people and families.

Any adult can become vulnerable at any point of their lives. Someone who is bereaved, lonely, experiencing difficulties etc. may seek peace and consolation. Other adults may be in need of care and support throughout their lives due to health or disability needs. Individuals who are vulnerable are at increased risk of abuse and exploitation.

Chapter aims to ensure that all children, families and adults can feel and be safe in all areas of the Minster’s life. Chapter will take all steps necessary to do this, including: ensuring that Church of England guidance on Safer Recruitment is applied in the engaging of paid and unpaid staff; observing and managing good health and safety practices; training all paid and unpaid staff in recognising and responding to concerns; and, observing child centred, good practice in the development and delivery of all activities involving children, young people and families.

Procedures

Risk assessment
All new activities should be thoroughly risk assessed using the project and Activity Risk Impact and Assessment form on the YM intranet. If you are unable to locate this, please contact the Cathedral Safeguarding Officer. If you are not sure how to use the form, have any questions, or would like support, please contact the Health and Safety Officer and/or the Cathedral Safeguarding Officer, as appropriate. All identified risks should be responded to, with a plan to mitigate against the risk drafted and actions taken. Consider who you need to share the risk assessment and plan with. If the risks are too great and/or cannot be mitigated against, this should be discussed with the Health and safety officer and/or the Cathedral Safeguarding Officer. Lack of a resolution may result in the planned event needing to be cancelled or redesigned.

Parental consent and child information
For most groups and activities at York Minster, information about the child (e.g. medical), parental consent (e.g. use of images) must be sought using the form available on the YM intranet.

Adult to child ratios
Where each child is accompanied by a parent or carer, there is no problem with ratios. However, when children are unaccompanied, the NSPCC recommended ratios should apply (see below). There are no equivalent ratios for working with adults who may be vulnerable but the recommendation is to avoid one to one working, where at all possible.
NSPCC

Adult to child ratios

We recommend having at least 2 adults present when working with or supervising children and young people. We recommend the following adult to child ratios as the minimum numbers to help keep children safe:

- 0 - 2 years
  - 1 adult to 3 children

- 2 - 3 years
  - 1 adult to 4 children

- 4 - 8 years
  - 1 adult to 6 children

- 9 - 12 years
  - 1 adult to 8 children

- 13 - 18 years (i.e. to 18th birthday)
  - 1 adult to 10 children

We recommend having at least 2 adults present, even with smaller groups.

When young people are helping to supervise younger children, then generally, only people aged 18 or over should be included as adults when calculating adult to child ratios.

In England, the Department for Education (2021), Early Years Foundation Stage statutory framework sets out statutory adult to child ratios for early years children (page 28 onward). The guidance sets out situations when 16 and 17 year-olds may be included in the adult to child ratios. Website accessed: 19.1.23.

Taken from: NSPCC Recommended Adult and Child Ratios Website accessed: 19.1.23

Some of York Minster’s activities may involve young people supporting activities involving younger children (the younger children generally accompanied by their own parent/carer). In circumstances where a younger child is unaccompanied, the young people must be supervised at all times, do not count as part of the ratio of adults to younger children but must be factored as children in determining adult to child ratios.

York Minster has number of departments, each interacting with children, young people, families and/or adults who may be vulnerable to a greater or lesser extent, and in unique ways. Each activity must, as stated above, be risk assessed, and procedures and processes developed to mitigate against risk, and promote safeguarding at all times. The Cathedral Safeguarding Officer and other relevant staff, e.g. the Health and Safety officer, must be consulted by departments.

NSPCC Safeguarding in Faith Communities (website accessed 17.1.23) offers useful information and re: safeguarding from within the beliefs, teachings and cultural context of faith communities.

York Minster Code of Behaviour: engaging with children, young people and adults who may be vulnerable

NB. Some areas of activity within York Minster may have specific guidance for certain activities. Please be aware of this, and check any additional requirements, including codes of behaviour and expectations of children and young people attending groups or volunteering with York Minster.

Why have a Code of Behaviour?
Individuals participating in York Minster events and activities may be in a position or situation to harm or abuse children, young people or vulnerable adults or to behave in a way that may be misunderstood, or seen as inappropriate, towards them. To minimise the risk of this, York Minster has a Code of Behaviour that aims to:

- Deter anyone who wishes to harm a child, young person or vulnerable adult from seeking employment in York Minster
- Provide guidance for everyone about acceptable and unacceptable behaviours with children, young people and vulnerable adults
- Support and protect staff and volunteers who work with children and young people
- To identify clergy, staff, volunteers, contractors and students working for York Minster who need further safeguarding training

Code of Behaviour
- York Minster wishes to ensure that clergy, staff, volunteers, contractors, Community and students working for York Minster, who work with children, young people and or vulnerable adults, understand the boundaries of appropriate behaviour. Every member of staff, volunteer, contractor and student is required to demonstrate exemplary behaviour in order to protect children, young people and vulnerable adults from abuse and to protect themselves from the possibility of misunderstandings and/or allegations.
- Some areas of work, or activities, at York Minster may be subject to specific policy, procedures and guidance (e.g. choir, bell ringing). Staff and volunteers should observe specific guidance in their own area, and be mindful of this overarching guidance.
- The following are examples of behaviour that create a positive and safe environment for vulnerable groups as they participate with us in York Minster activities.

Staff should:
- Treat everyone with fairness and respect and provide an example that they would wish others to follow
- Work openly, avoiding private or unobserved situations and working in isolation. Ensure that they are not the only adult present and at least within sight or hearing of others.
- They are advised to always leave the door open if they find themselves in a room alone with a child, young person or vulnerable adult * (see below)
- Maintain a safe and appropriate distance and be aware that physical contact may be unwelcome and misinterpreted
- Respect each child’s, young person’s or vulnerable adult’s right to privacy
- Exercise caution when discussing sensitive issues with children, young people or vulnerable adults

YM Safeguarding policy 2023
Dee Cooley, CSO
Behave according to the guidance offered in this Code
Be aware of any additional needs of individuals, and what that means for their care
Ensure that if any form of manual/physical touching is required, it should be given in an open observable environment. The reason why this is necessary should be explained to the child, young person or vulnerable adult and their informed agreement gained. In the case of certain activities, e.g. choir or bell ringing, this should be according to guidelines provided by the appropriate governing body, and in other instances according to York Minster policy.

Unacceptable behaviour by staff, volunteers and clergy should be challenged and all allegations or suspicions of abuse should be reported to the Cathedral Safeguarding Officer, in accordance with the reporting procedure in flowchart 1

The welfare of the child, young person or vulnerable adult must be the first priority.
In all activities feedback should be constructive rather than negative
Report all concerns, allegations or suspicions of abuse immediately to the Cathedral Safeguarding Officer, in accordance with the reporting procedure in flowchart 1

Those working with children and young people should never:

- Spend excessive time alone with children, young people or vulnerable adults * (see below)
- Give lifts to children on their/your own, unless it is an emergency and there is no alternative – in which case, inform someone of your action, make a record of the action and why it occurred as soon as possible.
- Discuss their personal life * (see below)
- Give out their personal contact details (personal phone or mobile number, email or home address)
- Become ‘friends’ on personal accounts on social networking sites, or engage in private messaging unless they are related to the child
- Leave groups of children or young people unsupervised
- Allow a child, young person or vulnerable adult to use inappropriate language without challenging it
- Do things of a personal nature that children, young people or vulnerable adults can do for themselves (If a child has a disability any tasks should be performed only with the full understanding and consent of the parent or guardian and, where possible, the child or young person themselves)
- Allow allegations made by a child, young person or vulnerable adult to be ignored, not recorded or not acted upon
- Engage in rough physical or sexually provocative games
- Make sexually suggestive or other inappropriate comments, even in fun
- Allow or engage in any form of inappropriate touching
- Reduce a child, young person or vulnerable adult to tears as a form of control

* this may be difficult if pastoral care is being offered. In that case, ensure that people know where you are, that you are operating in an open and transparent manner, and within CoE guidance.

NB. You may work with children or vulnerable adults of families with whom you are personal friends. If you are concerned about this, please seek advice from the Cathedral Safeguarding Officer.
Church of England:

Responding Well to Victims and Survivors of Abuse Guidance

The Church of England (2021) Responding Well to Victims and Survivors of Abuse guidance outlines requirements and advice for Church Officers and Church Bodies on how to respond well to victims and survivors of all forms of abuse. It contributes to the implementation of Rec. 7 of The Anglican Church Investigation Report by the Independent Inquiry into Child Sexual Abuse.

The allegations that Church Officers respond to will involve victims and survivors with different connections to the Church. Some may use the Church and its associated activities occasionally, some may be part of a church community, and some may be employees of the Church and some may be clergy. Some victims and survivors disclosing to Church Officers will allege abuse by people who have no links with the Church (e.g. in their family life) and others will allege abuse by Church Officers or within a Church context (e.g. activities organised by Church Bodies). Some victims or survivors may also disclose first to statutory services and other third parties who will then contact the Church.

Section 1 of the Guidance focuses on responding well to all people who allege abuse irrespective of the alleged abuser’s relationship with the Church. Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 specifically concern the support that should be offered to victims and survivors of abuse by a Church Officer or in a Church setting (“Church-based abuse”). Much of this work will be led by the Diocesan Safeguarding Adviser (DSA) or the Cathedral Safeguarding Adviser (CSA) in the Church Body. Section 8 explains the support provided by the Central Church.

Who to report to
A list of names and contacts at York Minster and other agencies can be found in the York Minster safeguarding procedures.

Sources of support
- There is support available within York Minster and the Diocese of York. You can speak with the CSO about this.
- Other sources of support (outside the Church) are listed on page 11 of this document.

York Minster and Diocese of York Survivor Voice Working Group
This group brings together survivors of abuse, Church safeguarding staff and professional partners from statutory and voluntary sector services providing services to victims and survivors of abuse. The group leads on strategic objectives safeguarding objectives and progress is reported to the Diocese of York Safeguarding Advisory Panel and the Chapter of York, and is intended to support delivery of the best possible services to prevent harm and in response to those who have been harmed. The involvement of those who have lived experience of abuse is critical in achieving this.
Church of England:

Safer Recruitment and People Management Guidance

York Minster practice is compliant with, and informed by, the national Church of England (2021), Safer Recruitment and People Management Guidance.

Employment of paid and unpaid staff
- The People Team will lead on applying Safer Recruitment principles to all recruitment processes. Some roles may require additional levels of scrutiny or checks in the recruitment and selection process.
- All managers who have identified the need for new volunteers or staff should involve the People Team at the earliest opportunity.
- York Minster’s Safer Recruitment Policy and Procedures can be discussed with the People Team, and are in accordance with the Church of England safer Recruitment guidance.

Changing roles
- Many of those who work, either paid or unpaid, at York Minster have been with the organisation for a long time, and their role may be redefined. Also, people develop different skills, and/or wish to take on new challenges, throughout their time at York Minster – this is to be welcomed. However, managers must guard against just moving people around without checking things out.
- If people wish to take on a new role, managers must assess, in consultation with the People team, what level of Disclosure and Barring check the new role requires (if at all). This is particularly important when the role involves any degree of contact with children, young people, families and/or adults who may be vulnerable and/or in need of care and support.

Induction and probation
- All those who work for York Minster, either paid or unpaid, must undergo induction. This will include an introduction to safeguarding at the Minster. This should take place within the first 6 months of the individual joining the Minster, and is usually possible within the first 3 months.
- All paid or unpaid staff will have a probationary period on joining the Minster. This offers an opportunity for both the individual, and the organisation, to review the relationship, how well it fits, and to reflect on practice. Probationary periods may vary. Please check this with the People Team in the recruitment process.

Safeguarding training
York Minster complies with the Church of England (2021), Safeguarding Learning and Development Framework. All members of staff at York Minster, paid or unpaid, ordained or lay, must complete safeguarding training. The Church of England requires different roles to undertake specified courses. In addition, Chapter requires that all staff, paid or unpaid, undertake role/team safeguarding briefing and discussion sessions. Details on relevant course, and delivery dates, can be obtained from the People Team or the CSO.
National legislation, policy and local guidance

Adult safeguarding

The Care Act 2014: gives local authorities a new legal responsibility to provide a care and support plan (or a support plan in the case of a carer). For the first time, the Act provides people with a legal entitlement to a personal budget, which is an important part of the care and support plan, or support plan.

No Secrets guidance on protecting vulnerable adults in care (2000): explains how commissioners and providers of health and social care services should work together to produce and implement local policies and procedures. They should collaborate with the public, voluntary and private sectors and they should also consult service users, their carers and representative groups. Local authority social services departments should co-ordinate the development of policies and procedures.

York Safeguarding Adults Board: works with organisations across the city to ensure that they have effective safeguarding policies and procedures in place and work together in the best way possible to protect adults with care and support needs. The YSAB publishes multi-agency policies and procedures, which must be observed by all agencies in the locality.

Safeguarding children and adults

The Sexual Offences Act 2003: came into force on the 1 May 2004 and applies to all offences committed on or after that date. Its purpose was to strengthen and update the law on sexual offences, whilst improving the protection of individuals from sexual offenders. The Act repealed almost all of the previous statute law in relation to sexual offences. It protects both children and adults.

The Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups Act 2006: was passed to help avoid harm, or risk of harm, by preventing people who are deemed unsuitable to work with children and vulnerable adults from gaining access to them through their work. The Independent Safeguarding Authority was established as a result of this Act. On 1 December 2012 the Criminal Records Bureau and Independent Safeguarding Authority merged to become the Disclosure and Barring Service (DBS). Organisations with responsibility for providing services or personnel to vulnerable groups have a legal obligation to refer relevant information to the service.
Child protection

The Children Act 1989: allocates duties to local authorities, courts, parents and other agencies in the United Kingdom, to ensure children are safeguarded and their welfare is promoted. It centres on the idea that children are best cared for within their own families; however, it also makes provisions for instances when parents and families do not co-operate with statutory bodies. It defines “significant harm” – a threshold for “child protection”.

The Adoption and Children Act 2002: Part 2 amended the Children Act 1989, and extended the definition of significant harm to include ‘impairment suffered from seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another’. This recognises the fact that witnessing domestic violence can have serious implications for children’s development.

The Education Act 2002: Section 175 places a duty on local authorities in relation to their education functions, the governing bodies of maintained schools and the governing bodies of further education institutions (which include sixth-form colleges) to exercise their functions with a view to safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children who are either pupils at a school or who are students under 18 years of age attending further education institutions.

The same duty applies to independent schools (which include Academies/free schools) by virtue of regulations made under section 157 of this Act.

The Children Act 2004: amended the Children Act 1989, largely in consequence of the Victoria Climbié inquiry

The Children and Families Act 2014: put in place a number of provisions, e.g. with regard to education health and care plans of disabled children (part 3); and, dealt with the amendment or provision in a number of miscellaneous areas, e.g. child performance licensing (Part 5).

Working Together 2018: statutory guidance, issued by the Government, for the assessment and management of safeguarding and the well-being of children and young people. Applies to single agency roles, and multi-agency working.

City of York Safeguarding Children Partnership: statutory multi-agency partnership. The overall role of the CYSCP is to coordinate local work to safeguard and promote the welfare of children and to ensure the effectiveness of what the member organisations do individually and together. The CYSCP publishes multi-agency safeguarding and child protection policies and procedures, which must be observed by all agencies in the locality.
